

Locus: A Smart Location-Based Apps and Sellers Data Integration

At Locus, we believe in democratizing opportunities for earning and entrepreneurship. Our platform is designed to cater to people from all walks of life, irrespective of age, gender, or socioeconomic status. Whether you're a roadside vendor, a student, a service professional, a startup founder, or a homemaker looking for extra income, Locus provides you with a smart medium to showcase and sell your products with minimal investment.

Who We Target

Our target audience includes:

- Roadside Shops and Hawkers: Providing them with a digital platform to reach more customers and expand their business.
- Students: Offering a means to earn extra income by selling items they create or have access to.
- Service Holders: Empowering them to explore entrepreneurship as a side hustle or alternative career path.
- Startups and Young Entrepreneurs: Offering a cost-effective way to market and sell their products to a local audience.
- Housewives: Providing an opportunity to generate income and contribute to their family's financial well-being.

How Locus Works

Imagine you have products to sell, but you lack the means to reach potential customers. With Locus, you can:

- Snap and Post: Simply take a photo of your products and post them on Locus.
- Geo-Targeted Notifications: People within a certain radius of your location, who have Locus installed on their devices, receive notifications about your products.
- Direct Engagement: Interested buyers can call or message you directly through the app to inquire about your products or arrange a purchase.
- Economic and Social Impact: By facilitating local transactions, Locus not only creates economic value for sellers but also fosters community engagement and support.

Advantages of Locus

- Low Investment, High Returns: No need for additional investment in delivery personnel, storage space, or office rent, allowing sellers to maximize profits.
- Free Promotion: Locus promotes sellers' products at minimal cost, enhancing their visibility and scalability.

- Contribution to GDP: By enabling more individuals to participate in the economy, Locus contributes to the overall growth of the GDP.

Join Locus Today

Whether you're looking to start a small business, earn extra income, or support local entrepreneurs, Locus is your gateway to area-based business success. Join us today and become part of a vibrant community driving economic empowerment and social change.

“Empower your business. Empower your community. Empower with Locus.”